ACADEMY OPENS FOR 176th YEAR WITH ENROLLMENT OF 149 BOYS

School opened on September 20 with the record enrollment of 119 boarding boys and 30 day students, totaling 149.

The day student enrollment, which is nearly double that of last year, is partially accounted for by the scholarships awarded for the first time to boys living in the Town of Newbury in which the school is located. Twelve nearby cities and towns are now represented by day students.

New York state, with twenty-four boys, is second to Massachusetts which sends forty-one, while New Jersey and Maine are tied for third place with thirteen representatives each.

About two-thirds of the boarding boys are from homes outside of Massachusetts, and these come from fifteen different states and two foreign countries.

In addition to the states mentioned, the following states are represented: Pennsylvania 5; Connecticut 4; New Hampshire and Illinois, 3 each; Rhode Island, Wisconsin, and Vermont, 2 each; and one each from Florida, Colorado, Indiana, Missouri, and Ohio.

Argentina and the Phillipine Islands each have one student.

STORM CAUSES LITTLE DAMAGE ON GOVERNOR DUMMER CAMPUS

Governor Dummer Academy was fortunate in suffering very little damage in the hurricane of September 21 which was so disastrous to other sections of New England.

A large tree in front of Parsons Schoolhouse was blown down along with several locusts on the edge of the campus toward Degen House. The old apple tree which stood beside Commons was damaged and had to be cut down, but because it was little more than a hollow shell before the storm, its life was shortened only by a year or two.

The electric current was discontinued for about forty hours, and was resumed before water shortage or other inconveniences resulted.

In comparison with several other schools in New England, Governor Dummer was particularly fortunate in experiencing so little damage and disruption of the school schedule.

AMBROSE HOUSE IS REMODELED; PROVIDES ROOMS FOR EIGHT BOYS

During the summer, extensive changes were made in the Ambrose House which was recently acquired by the Academy. An apartment has been made for Mr. and Mrs. Kirk and their two children, and there are rooms for eight boys.

HISTORIC AMBROSE HOUSE

Built in 1695, this old landmark is now a regular Academy dormitory, remodeled to house eight boys.

The house, which was long the home of Mrs. Carrie Knight Ambrose, came to the Academy largely through the generosity of Mrs. Ambrose's relatives and friends and other friends of the school. Miss Sarah A. Clark of Newburyport has not only contributed generously to the purchase of the property but she has also contributed $500 to a fund to be known as the Knight-Ambrose Fund, which will aid the school in preserving and maintaining the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Bean of Lowell, uncle and aunt of Ralph Bean who graduated last June, gave the sum of $1,500 toward the purchase of the property.

A tablet, which will honor the memory of Mrs. Ambrose, will be placed near the front door of the house.

STACKPOLE MADE HARVARD DEAN

Mr. Stephen H. Stackpole, formerly a master at Governor Dummer, has been appointed Assistant Dean of Harvard College in charge of juniors and seniors, and student activities. Since leaving the Academy three years ago, Mr. Stackpole has been Secretary to President Conant of Harvard.

Vespers

October 2: The Reverend Glenn Tilley Morse of Newburyport.

Mr. Perkins said that a commonly widespread misrepresentation of the Christian religion has resulted in an unpopularity which Christianity does not deserve. Too often Christianity is thought of as a religion which depends upon divine intervention to solve a man's difficulties and problems.

True Christianity gives strength to withstand adversity, but should not be expected to solve the problems of everyday life without individual striving.

Mr. Morse took as the subject of his talk the career of St. Andrew. This saint, who suffered and died so bravely early in his life, is a particularly appropriate person for schoolboys to consider.

St. Andrew exemplified high Christian action when he was called to join Jesus' apostles. Not only did he readily accept the call for himself, but he also converted his brother and many others to Christianity.

Mr. Cadigan told a story which allegorically showed an important part of the Christian religion. Christian love of the highest order is a reciprocal force. A real feeling for nature and a sincere spirit of friendship for one's fellowmen will call forth a response.

Striving to attain a high ideal in life was the keynote of Mr. Greeley's remarks. Boys who have the advantages of good education make up a privileged group, and they have the obligation of setting for themselves standards far above the average.

A high aim in personal standards if achieved makes the restrictions of society unnecessary for the individual.

Mr. Pennington spoke on The Well-Knit Spirit, which he compared to a well built boat which combines beauty and strength. Until a man has achieved a well unified personality, he is not equipped to make the necessary choices between good and evil.

But the most difficult choices confronting man are those between two evils, and Mr. Pennington cited the recent dilemma of Neville Chamberlain as an example of such a necessary choice.

If a well-knit spirit is attained, it is possible for a man to find yet a third choice, and this lies in the ability of the truly religious man to find another way through his knowledge of God.

Mr. Stackpole opened his talk with a passage from The Yearling which expounded the philosophy that no matter how many times life knocks one down, the only thing to do is to get up and fight again.

In combatting life's difficulties, said Mr. Stackpole, it is important to think before acting. Thinking does not take the place of action; it helps one to act correctly.

More Briefly

Mr. Robert Iglehart is teaching French at Groton School. Mr. Osborn P. Nash 2d is teaching French at Williston Academy, Easthampton, Massachusetts. Mr. and Mrs. J. Dana Allen, Jr are living at 145 Cricket Avenue, Ardmore, Pennsylvania, and Mr. Allen is teaching German and history at the Haverford School, Haverford, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Morey Eames have moved to 22 Pine Street, Peterborough, New Hampshire, where they have purchased a house. Mr. Eames has opened a photography studio.

THE ARCHON wishes to express thanks to John Gannett and his father who provided several aerial views of the school, two of which are reproduced in this issue.

John and a photographer flew down from Portland, Maine, in Mr. Gannett's plane, early in September, and circled the campus several times to get a group of eight views.

Mr. Amos E. Jewett of Rowley has presented to the Academy a rare old manuscript, probably written in 1762 or 1763 by the Reverend Moses Parsons. The item is a discussion of Governor Dummer's will and its provisions for establishing a school.

PORTRAIT OF MRS. AMBROSE PAINTED BY FRANCES DALTON

An oil portrait of Mrs. Ambrose was painted during the summer by Miss Frances Dalton of Andover. It was painted from photographs and is a striking likeness of Mrs. Ambrose during the later years of her life when she was known by so many boys.

The portrait was made possible by the gift of the graduating class of 1938 which gave a sum of money for this purpose.

A committee composed of Miss Sarah A. Chase, Miss Helen M. Noyes, Mr. Morey Eames and representatives of the Class of 1938 has accepted the finished painting, and it will be displayed soon in the New Building, and then hung permanently in Ambrose House.

CAMERA CLUB IS ORGANIZED; NEWMAN ACTING AS PRESIDENT

The Camera Club has been organized under the leadership of Mr. Kirk and Mr. Heil of the faculty and John Newman who is acting as president.

At the Club's first meeting, the school's permanent collection of photographs was displayed, and Mr. Heil gave a talk on using the tables for obtaining correct focus depth.

Miss Ellyn M. Gwatkin of Cambridge, England, has presented to the school a copy of Hale's Contemplations; Moral and Divine, which bears the bookplate of William Dummer. The book was printed in London in 1705.

Heinz Drewke and Siegfried Borkowski, who were German Exchange students at Governor Dummer last year, have presented to the Academy an unusually fine book called Schonheit Im Olympischen Kampf. It is a series of action photographs of Olympic athletes taken by Leni Riefenstahl.

An exhibition of more than fifty photostatic copies of Kenneth Roberts' source books and manuscripts for Northwest Passage and Rabble in Arms has been on display in the living room of Moody House. Mr. Freiday arranged for the exhibit, which was loaned by Doubleday Doran and Company, Mr. Roberts' publishers.

On October 31 the football squads took a day off and staged a rope pull against the large elm tree near the New Building which was tipped part way over by the storm. The squads pulled the tree about thirty degrees back into position.

Mr. Ellis W. Brewster has presented to the school a bell rope which has been attached to the bell in the Red Schoolhouse.

The rope is specially made of old-fashioned hemp of the kind used in rope making during the Eighteenth Century when the Schoolhouse was built.

The cachet, which was issued in connection with the dedication of the reconstructed Red Schoolhouse on June 9, showed a drawing of the Schoolhouse.

Envelopes bearing the cachet were mailed out from the South Byfield postoffice to nearly a thousand stamp collectors all over the country.

PAINTING PRESENTED TO SCHOOL

BY MR. AND MRS. MESSENGER

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Messenger have presented to the school a large oil painting which shows a late Eighteenth Century schoolmaster and his pupils in a classroom. The picture was painted early in the Nineteenth Century, probably by an English artist.

The painting, which will hang in Mr. Eames' office, is particularly interesting because it shows a school room scene which might well have been enacted in Master Samuel Moody's original schoolhouse at Governor Dummer.

THE ARCHON will pay $1. each for photographs suitable for publication. Photographs for cover cuts, for which more than the regular rate will be paid, are particularly needed.

A Standard of Courtesy

Courtesy plays rather an important part in our life here at Governor Dummer Academy, but sometimes it seems that too many of the students are not aware of this fact.

In the dining hall, for example, you should conduct yourselves just as you would at home, but there are other even more significant ways of showing courtesy.

It is important to be courteous to our guests. Many of our visitors are strangers, and they appreciate any assistance you can give them.

It is very little trouble to go out of your way to be helpful to visitors, and you are repaid highly because of the good impression thereby given by the school.

School spirit is a fine thing, and should be shown by good group cheering but not by individual attempts at witticisms—which are almost always not as humorous as the authors think they are.

The student body should set a high standard of courteous behaviour at games, realizing that outward impressions mold the opinions which our visitors form of Governor Dummer Academy.

Using the Library

Recently a new project was put into effect when the new boys, in groups of twenty, met in the Library to receive instruction in the use of the Library's facilities. This is a worthwhile procedure, because the greatest benefit can be had from use of the Library if everyone understands the system of finding and borrowing books from the shelves.

Every student should know how to find an item in a library, and since the Noyes Library is based on the Dewey Decimal system, which is used in most libraries in the United States, the knowledge gained here at Governor Dummer will be valuable in years to come.

Furthermore, if every boy in school knows the correct way to take books from the Library, there will be a minimum of lost or misplaced books, and the entire school will benefit.

A library is much more than a jumble of books placed on shelves. It is a selected assortment of working tools for students, carefully classified and arranged for easy access. Instruction in library procedure should make the student body conscious of this and increase the value of the Library to everyone.

AWIK! PICKANINNY!

By HUGH W. BYFIELD

The scene is the south end of Smith Sound, between Greenland and Ellesmere Land, some four hundred miles north of the Arctic Circle. Both coasts are in sight—steep, mountainous coasts that close in menacingly at the upper end of the Sound. Stretching from shore to shore, a great convex sheet of glittery, broken ice extends, with here and there an occasional towering hill-large iceberg. Some pieces are only three or four feet square; others are half a mile long, but none are more than three feet high, for this is only a field of floe ice, only the frozen ocean surface. Between the chunks, the water shows up a dark blue-green.

It is a perfect night without a cloud in sight, and the sun shines wanly from a bright blue sky, for this is the land of the Midnight Sun.

There is no wind, and so we, the watch on the deck of our hundred-foot schooner, the Morrissey, have discarded our heavy coats, and are standing around in our shirt sleeves.

We are skirting the ice fields looking for walrus, but until they are sighted, we are content to chatter in silent sign language with our two smiling Eskimo hunters. As we loaf in the bow, we are thankful for our engine which guides us so surely through the loose ice. The bos'un comes on deck and places a box of shells in the port whaleboat, which is swung over the side from the davits, ready for instant lowering. In it are the two ivory harpoons of the Eskimos, attached by ropes of walrus hide to inflated sealskin floats. On the engine-housing is coiled a lasso, and beside it lie two rifles. All is in readiness.

Suddenly from the crow's nest comes the mate's shout, "Walrus on the port bow!"

The older Eskimo, Poodluna, however, after a moment's gaze, says that there is no pup, which is what we want, so we continue on our way. Then, a moment later, comes another shout, this time from Poodluna, "Awik! Pickaninny!" which means, "Walrus and pup!" We stare through our binoculars but can make nothing of the formless, orange-brown mass on the ice-pan, and we register a mental tribute to the Eskimo's eyes.

From the afterdeck comes the skipper's roar, "Lower away, me bhoys, and after 'em."

And so into the water with a splash goes the boat, and we all pile in. The helmsman, an engineer, George the bos'un, Davy our lassoer, Al our crack shot, and the Eskimos, all take their positions. We speed away from the side of the ship, and approach the unsuspecting walrus, keeping behind pieces of ice in order to avoid alarming them in case they are awake. As we get nearer, the group resolves itself into an old dog, the mother, and a small pup—all fast asleep.

A hundred feet away, the engine is shut off. We glide silently nearer and nearer to the trio until we are almost upon them. Poodluna flings his harpoon, and all hell breaks loose. The awik wake simultaneously, the wounded mother lets forth an anguished bellow, and all three dive, barking vigorously, into the water. The float flashes over the side, dragged by the hissing line. We start our engine and follow. The leather float zigzags crazily through the ice channels, and we rush after in hazardous pursuit.

Twenty minutes of doubling and twisting that would frighten a snake, and the exhausted mother comes to the surface with the pup held safely on her back by the hind flippers. The old dog rushes at our boat, his huge tusks gleaming wickedly like ivory sabers, but a shot and a crack on the head with an oar scares him away. Another shot finishes the mother, who in her death-struggle hooks her teeth over the gunnel. For one instant, canted dangerously, we stare at the small head and huge body, at the short hairs and whiskers, at the wicked red-rimmed eyes; and then George takes one tusk in each hand, and heaves her bodily back into the water.

A lasso over the head captures the pup, who has been swimming about us in panic, afraid to leave his mother. He is then hauled into the boat, barking and squealing, his flippers flailing, outraged dignity in every line of him. We head back to the boat, trailing the carcass behind us from the harpoon line. We haul the whaleboat back into its former position. The pup is carried, still bawling and struggling, to his home for the next month—a wooden tank.

The Eskimos are all grins as they eye the big walrus body, for they know they will have plenty of food for a good long time. Less concerned with the corporal aspects of the situation, we watch the pup frolic in his tank for a while. Then we go below and turn in.

An improved Governors team scored twice against Vermont Academy in the first period and effectively thwarted every threat of the opponents to score, to win by a 12 to 0 score at South Byfield on October 29.

Johnny Koslowski took the ball around right end for a score from the 10-yard line, three minutes after the opening whistle, and Matty Hannon followed up with another touchdown a few minutes later. Matty took a pass from Pickard in the Jacob's pass play, and went over from mid-field.

In the second quarter, a Vermont drive was arrested, and the Governors charged down the field. Fine running by Vermont's Captain Saunders and Costin featured in this period, but Tom Tenney and Ed Mulcahy were breaking through to stop play after play.

Both teams put on a spurt in the last quarter, and Vermont seemed determined to score when Costin broke loose for a 38-yard run. But the Governors took the ball on downs and were pushing back the Green Mountain boys when the final whistle blew.

"B" SQUAD PLAYS SCORELESS TIE

"B" Squad went into action against Newburyport High School's Freshman team on Morse Field and was unable to score in a game which ended in a 0 to 0 tie.

The Squad's second team played the entire first half of the game and held up well. The first team went in at the half but was no more successful than the seconds in its attempts to put over a touchdown.

KIMBALL UNION SOCCER TEAM TIES GAME WITH GOVERNORS

On Wednesday, October 19, the school soccer team played its second overtime tie game of the season with Kimball Union Academy at South Byfield. The score was 2 to 2.

The first period showed the Governors playing ragged soccer, failing to get the ball in despite many scoring set-ups. Captain Pitcairn, however, did some nice passing from the side lines.

The second period was more or less a repetition of the first, but after the half, the home team stepped up its attack and finally executed the prettiest play of the game. Out of the corner, Norm Pitcairn booted a long shot to the other side of the field where George Simson was waiting to head it through the goal.

Repeated attacks in the last period failed to register, and the 2 to 2 tie was maintained through overtimes which continued until darkness ended the game.

LIEUTENANTS EDGE IPSWICH BY SAFETY IN CLOSE GAME

"B" Squad footballers nosed out a 2 to 0 win over Ipswich High Freshmen on October 17 at South Byfield.

The Lieutenants collected their two points early in the first period when Tom Collins punted out on the opponents' 1-foot line. On the next play the Ipswich kicker stepped off the field, giving us a safety.

FOOTBALL TEAM SUFFERS LOSS TO KIMBALL UNION ACADEMY

On Saturday, October 22, the varsity football team went down to its first defeat of the season by losing to Kimball Union Academy, 20 to 14. The game was played on Morse Field.

Three minutes after the first kick-off, Kimball Union recovered a fumble on the 15-yard stripe and pushed over for a touchdown.

The Governors rallied and marched to their opponents' 23-yard line but lost the ball on downs. Kimball Union failed to gain, and Matty Hannon made a beautiful run-back of the punt.

As the second period opened, Kimball Union topped off a determined drive down the field with a fine run from a baffling reverse play and Robertson scored standing up from the 25-yard line. Henry again kicked the point.

Then the Governors tallied on a pass from Pickard to Johnny Koslowski who took the ball out of the air on the goal line. Pick added a point with a successful line-buck.

In the last quarter, the Governors unleashed a terrific offensive which had the visitors bewildered. On passes to Clark Young and Don Mortimer, the Governors went into enemy territory. Hannon passed to Koslowski who made a good gain and then lateraled to Matty who plowed through to the 10-yard marker. A pass to Bud Hasse resulted in a score, and Koslowski kicked the point.

Another forward march was started by the Governors in the last minutes of the game, but after several fine runs by Tom Tenney, Bob Nutter, and Matty Hannon, the ball was lost on a pass, and the game ended.

SOCCER TEAM IS UPSET, 6 - 1, BY ANDOVER IN OPENING GAME

On Wednesday, October 5, the Governor Dummer soccer team was defeated at Andover by Phillips Academy, 6 to 1.

The game started with both teams fighting hard for the first goal, with Andover showing an edge on offensive power. However, our backs showed strength in preventing an Andover score, and the first period went scoreless.

As the second period began, the Governors pushed forward, but missed a fine chance to score when George Simson made an accurate kick out from the corner. Then Andover started to penetrate the Governors' defense, and Herskowitz finally scored the only goal of the period.

Scheid, Andover's German Exchange student, then broke loose and scored three times more. Although our defense men tried hard to stop him, they could not. Andover led 5 to 1 at the end of the third period.

Our backs played a tighter game in the last period and held Andover to one score.

TOOLEY IS WINNER OF FALL HANDICAP GOLF TOURNAMENT

Gordon Tooley captured the fall term Handicap Golf Tournament by defeating Harry Davy on the Ould Newbury course, three up and two to play, on October 27.

Tooley was three up at the end of the first round, and maintained his lead through the second round.

To gain the finals, Tooley beat Wendall Sargent in the semi-finals, and Davy downed Dwight Murray.

THAYER ACADEMY DEFEATED 32-7 AS GOVERNORS OPEN WITH A WIN

The Governor Dummer football team opened the 1938 season on October 8 with a smashing victory over Thayer Academy at South Braintree. The score was 32 to 7.

The Governors started out with a number of well-executed plunges through the center of the line and a few end runs which went deep into enemy territory. Captain John Koslowski carried over the first touchdown of the season after taking a beautiful forward pass from Ed Mulcahy. The try for extra point failed.

Throughout the first half the Thayer team was unable to pick up much yardage through the hard-charging Governors' line.

The second Governors score was made by Matty Hannon after a long march down the field climaxed by a powerful plunge through center.

Matty Hannon and Captain Koslowski each scored again before the third quarter was over, setting the score at 26 to 0.

Thayer tried hard for a score in the third period by throwing a series of passes, but Spence Brewster was on his toes and intercepted one of these, carrying it fifty-two yards for another touchdown.

GOVERNORS GAIN SLASHING WIN OVER HARVARD FRESHMEN 2DS

On Friday, October 14, the Governor Dummer football team won its second game of the season by defeating the Harvard Freshmen Seconds, 19 to 0, at South Byfield.

As the first period opened, both teams tried a series of passes which were of no avail. The Governors then scored on the Princeton scoring play after Pete Pearson had intercepted a pass and had made a nice run. Ed Mulcahy carried the ball over for the score.

The Governors scored again in the second period as the result of a pass to Matty Hannon, who carried the ball to the five-yard marker. Mulcahy again scored on an off-tackle play. The kick attempted to convert the point was blocked.

Throughout the third period, the Governors' defence was remarkable. Time and time again Harvard plays would be stopped before they got underway. Ed Sheffield and Clark Young stood out in this respect.

The Governors again scored in the third period when they marched 65 yards down the field on some fine running by Mulcahy and Pickard. Hannon scored on a long pass from Pickard, and Johnny Koslowski kicked the point.

SOCCER MEN TIE M. I. T. FROSH IN GAME OF FOUR OVERTIMES

On October 15, the M. I. T. freshmen soccer team played the Governors at South Byfield in a game which resulted in a 2 to 2 tie in spite of four overtime periods.

In the first half, the Governors came on the field fighting hard and outplayed Tech throughout. The Governors kept the play in M. I. T.'s territory most of the time, but they were unable to register a goal.

Working to overcome the Tech lead, Captain Norm Pitcairn whipped in a goal after a strong offensive push by the team.

A few minutes later Tom Parker booted a spectacular goal, and the score was knotted at 2 to 2 when the regular time periods ended.

In four exciting overtimes, the Governors seemed always on top, but they saw all of their scoring tries saved by the M. I. T. defence, while Tech hardly threatened to score.

Sports Notes

At Bowdoin, Nels Corey, '35, is Captain of the team, playing a tackle position, while Walt Loeman, '36, is a varsity guard. Dan Hanley, '35, and Bill Broe, '35, play end and tackle respectively. Four men on the Bowdoin varsity makes a fine showing for the Governors.

Ben Smith, '35, a senior at Harvard this year, is playing a smashing game at fullback, and is one of the Crimson's finest backs. Ben has developed slowly and steadily during the past three years, and now after several shifts he has found his position.

Red Batten, '36, is a substitute fullback at Williams. Red did not go out for football during his first two years at college, but he put on weight this last summer and is now playing good college football. He did a good job in the game with Bowdoin.

At Amherst, Charlie Callanan, '37, is a substitute back, and since he is now a sophomore, we can expect to see him a first string varsity player in the near future.

Out in California, Jack Connelly, '37, is center on the Loyola team. Jack will be remembered as one of the finest centers we ever had here at school. Last year Jack won a cup at the end of the freshman football season for his outstanding contribution to his team's success.

Joe Hoague and Ed Donnelly, both '37, are playing for Colgate's Red Raiders. Ed has played in every game so far and has caught passes for some long gains. In the Duke game, Colgate's major threat to score was the result of a 65-yard run by Ed.

Although Joe Hoague is only a sophomore at Colgate, sports writers are already talking about him as one of the greatest backs Andy Kerr has ever had. He is the first sophomore to hold down a varsity berth in the Colgate backfield.

Joe's punts out-distanced those of his opponent, Eric Tipton, in the Duke game, and Tipton is reputedly the best kicker in the South. Joe averaged forty-seven yards from the line of scrimmage, and booted one punt seventy-eight yards.

SOCCER TEAM WINS IMPRESSIVE VICTORY OVER HARVARD FROSH

Governor Dummer's soccer men broke their tying streak on October 28 when they travelled to Cambridge and decisively downed Harvard Freshmen Seconds, 5 to 0.

Dick Carnrick and Bud Donoghue also contributed goal-making kicks, and Windsor Frost played his strongest game in three years.

The team as a unit clicked better than in previous games, and was able to cash in on scrimmages in front of the enemy goal.

"A" SQUAD FOOTBALL MEN WIN FROM NEWBURYPORT HIGH 2DS

Bob Little scored on a 60-yard run in the first quarter, and Johnny Benting followed suit soon after from the 30-yard line. In the third period Pete Ananian ran the Governors' score up to 20, and the last quarter went scoreless.
